GET OUT AND ABOUT IN THE TEES VALLEY
 this summer to find four installations, VIEWPOINTS, commissioned by Festival of Thrift, and open your mind to a different perspective. The artworks seek to challenge your views on what future sustainability means to you, and how you might perceive local and global environmental issues.

COME ALONG AND TAKE PART in the 6th ANNUAL multi award-winning Festival of Thrift. This year the festival is bigger, bolder and bursting at the seams with sustainable hands-on fun!

BIO
DIP

The Festival of Thrift is about encouraging individuals, communities and companies to be more sustainable and the VIEWPOINTS installations seeks to reflect this and make you think about the impact each of us has on our planet. By finding ways to make our resources go further, through upcycling, recycling, swapping, learning and sharing knowledge we can all work together for a creative, more thoughtful, brighter future.

We invite you to MAKE, SHARE, EAT, SHOP, PLAY, RELAX and LEARN with our jam-packed programme of activities and entertainment located in the most magical of venues. We will be encouraging cycling, embracing planting and growing and celebrating the centenary of women's suffrage. There will be performances, exhibitions, over 150 stalls selling all manner of thrifty, upcycled and recycled goods, delicious food and drink as well as a few surprises along the way. SEE YOU @THRIFTFEST FOLKS!

CROSSROADS

Graphic artist Ian Kirkpatrick's giant artwork (cover image detail) explores the past, present and future of the Tees Valley. These mega-artworks decorate the hoardings around the car-park on Bedford Street in Middlesbrough and will remain in place after the Viewpoints week. This commission is produced in partnership with Middlesbrough Council.

LOCATION Bedford Street, Middlesbrough TS1 2LL
Mon 20 August – no set end date

SONIC ANOMALY

Sound artists Lee Berwick and Rob Olins create a sound installation in St Hilda's Church (a magnificent 12th century church), using a mix of pre-recorded local voices and sounds electronically generated within and by the building, reflecting the local people and the unique position of the church on the headland as a refuge from the sea. Experience different sounds and moods as you move around the building.

LOCATION St Hilda's Church,
Hartlepool Headland TS24 0JB
Mon 20 - Fri 24 August, 12noon - 4.30pm

LAST DITCH ATTEMPT

Artists Lucien Anderson and David Lisser have built a mini mobile seed-library which they will cycle around the Tees Valley, made in response to last year's flooding of the Svalbard Global Seed Vault. The artists will talk to people about the importance of harnessing local knowledge and establishing independent crops of open-pollinated vegetable varieties, essential for our long-term self-sufficiency and survival. They will give away – to a few lucky people – a mix of vegetable seeds inside specially made plaster capsules, so that you can choose whether to keep them as your own personal seed-bank, or to break the capsules open and plant the seeds within.

COW-CAR

Sculptor and art-car-maker Andy Hazell has welded a steel figure of a cow onto the roof of a VW car and will drive it around the Tees Valley, talking to people about the fact that our burger habit means that intensively-farmed cows are producing methane in quantities that rival car emissions, so perhaps we need to think about what we eat and its effect on our lovely planet. See if you can spot the cow-car as it moooves around Teesside and let us know! #Cowcar.
